Director's Notes

It was our intention to present a piece of theatre that would appeal to a wide range of people - specifically five to thirteen year olds. This was a difficult task since the gap is so pronounced between these two ages. What appeals to 'littles' doesn't often appeal to 'BIGS' and vice versa.

Given this as our challenge, we decided to adapt two small works - "Close The Door", a traditional Scottish tale and "The Snooks Family" by Hancourt Williams - into longer plays that would incorporate many more characters, situations and musical pieces. We also added a timely piece by Dr. Seuss entitled "The Sneetches". This piece and its message is relevant now considering the state of the present world. The latter is in its original form with the addition of a few musical numbers.

The result is a collage of slapstick, songs, dances, and plenty of humour which, in our opinion, successfully crosses the age boundaries. Beware, it may even make a few adults laugh...

Enjoy!
